

Fiber optic technology is the backbone of modern high-speed communication networks, yet selecting the right modules and patch cords can be daunting. This guide demystifies fiber optic standards, ...

Patch and Splice Modules Convenient Fiber Optic Termination Kits Flexible Fiber Splice Trays Get Patch and Splice Modules from Multilink When deploying fiber optics in the field, telecommunications companies need ways to safely and efficiently store and terminate cables. As many technicians know, having the right fiber optic patch and splice modules can make these tasks easier and can render the process more cost-effective for companies. Our engineers have designed a series patch an... See more on gomultilink
